

Previously: Planned and held first of our two Membership Committee Zoom meetings for new members to MPLA. From my perspective we had a great attendance, including current members, new members and one potential member. The recording from the MemCom meetup is slated to be on the website shortly.

Upcoming: Membership committee plans to leverage the power of our Zoom access to host webinars and meet-ups for the membership as a way to increase the value of an MPLA membership. Dates and times are being discussed now. We are in a slight holding pattern because my library moves back into its newly renovated 28,000 square foot library next month and all of those chickens are coming home to roost.
