

Nebraska report

A reminder email is being sent to Nebraska librarians about Tri-conference. There will probably be less representation at MPLA this year, as the ARSL conference is in Omaha and is the same week.

A reminder to all Nebraska librarians to apply for the MPLA Leadership Institute was also sent out. I am hopeful that there will be some good applicants. The NLA exec board discussed encouraging newer librarians to go because the MPLA LI does not duplicate the Nebraska LI.

Final plans are being set for NLA's annual conference in Kearney Nebraska this October. Registration is open and a tentative schedule has been put online as well.

26 Librarians made it back safely from a bus trip to ALA annual in Chicago. The next issue of Nebraska Libraries will highlight some of the trip, and the following issue will have a full report.

Respectfully submitted

Jake Rundle